Expedition Inspiration

2013-2014 Colorado FCCLA Theme and Goals

Explore

Goal: To explore personal opportunities through positive risk-taking.

Objectives:

1. To seek out leadership possibilities at the chapter, district, state, and national levels.
2. To celebrate new cultures by investigating the Japanese Exchange National Program.
3. To map out personal wellness through Student Body National Program with touring ChooseMyPlate.gov and hiking to a Colorado natural wonder.

Amaze

Goal: To amaze the community with the involvement of members at different levels.

Objectives:

1. To construct a map for chapters to venture into the Leadership Service in Action National Program through the year.
2. To engage chapters to explore the potential partnerships between local middle schools and high schools
3. To discover the opportunities present through the participation in Share Our Strength National Community Outreach Project.
4. To navigate through the community with environmental sustainability, minimal footprint, and respect of our natural wonders.

Inspire

Goal: To inspire members to create a positive image in our communities.

Objectives:

1. To empower members to leave an unforgettable, positive image of individuals who care about their environment, community, and family.
2. To experience the wonders of public relations by informing the community of chapter accomplishments.
3. To climb toward a passion by discovering what inspires you most.

Executive Summary

1,190 students, advisers and guests participated at the FCCLA State Conference held at the Denver Tech Marriott, April 3 – 5, 2014 and the Food Events Conference was held April 11, 2014 at Johnson & Wales University. The conference theme was “Camp Expedition Inspiration”. The total cost of the conference was $123,004.17 and the total revenue for the conference was $109,142.53. 888 Students from across Colorado competed in 39 STAR and State competitive events with 146 of national qualifiers from 30 schools. Colorado FCCLA gave out 20 state awards and 2 scholarships to members, advisers, administrators, Friends of FCCLA, legislators, and chapters. 10 state officers were recognized for the contributions and 13 members were elected and installed as state officers for the 2014 – 2015 year. The conference used 21 FCCLA staff members and volunteers, 74 event chair people, 254 judges, and sessions and competitive events.

Financial Summary

Overview

Colorado FCCLA used vendor payments, conference fees and affiliation monies to fund the 2014 State Leadership Conference. The majority of the conference was funded through conference fees while most of conference staff expenses of mileage and per diem were funded through affiliation monies. The Colorado FCCLA Executive Council reviews the state conference budget and will make recommendations for future conferences.
