2016-2017 Colorado FCCLA Theme and Goals

Start Somewhere (close to home or on top of a mountain) by immersing yourself in all that Colorado has to offer, educating your peers, and discovering the joy of accomplishing your goals. Join Colorado FCCLA for the 2016 - 2017 Colorado road trip!

Are We There Yet?

Goal: To prepare members and Colorado FCCLA for the road ahead.

1. To map out trending Colorado industries and their relevance to Family and Consumer Sciences.
2. To fuel members with the skills they need to be financially fit.
3. To hit the pavement and Go For The Red through recruiting, retaining, and recognizing members at all levels.

Where? Here!

Goal: To empower members to signal their concerns in themselves and their community.

1. To inspire members to cutoff the negative noise and change lanes by adopting a positive personal mentality.
2. To become an advocate by accelerating the knowledge of members and community leaders.
3. To get your community up-to-speed by finding and addressing their needs.

You Are Here!

Goal: To rally members to take the wheel and embrace the here and now.

1. To encourage members to rev up awareness for traffic safety in their community through the FACTS National Program.
2. To put the brakes on brutality by recognizing, reporting, and reducing youth violence through STOP the Violence National Program.
3. To challenge members to plan the trip ahead yet enjoy every mile traveled.

Executive Summary

1,091 students, advisers and guests participated at the FCCLA State Conference held at the Sheraton Downtown Denver Hotel, April 13 - 15, 2017. The conference theme was Start Somewhere. The total cost of the conference was $114,558.35 and the total revenue for the conference was $118,518.51. Colorado FCCLA gave out 21 state awards and 2 scholarships to members, advisers, administrators, Friends of FCCLA, legislators, and chapters. 13 state officers were recognized for the contributions and 12 members were elected and installed as state officers for the 2016 – 2017 year. 809 Students from across Colorado competed in 41 STAR and State competitive events with 114 of national qualifiers from 35 schools. The conference used 21 FCCLA staff members and volunteers, 83 event lead consultants, 187 judges, and sessions and competitive events.

Financial Summary

Overview

Colorado FCCLA used vendor payments and conference fees to fund the 2017 State Leadership Conference. The majority of the conference was funded through conference fees while most of conference staff expenses of lodging, mileage, and per diem were funded through Carl D. Perkins funds. The Colorado FCCLA Executive Council reviews the state conference budget and will make recommendations for future conferences.
